Tallaght Local Area Plan

Public consultation on the draft Tallaght Local Area Plan (LAP) closed on Thursday 24 October following a six-week public consultation. 45 submissions have been received from local residents, businesses, as well as a range of community groups, land-owners, developers and statutory bodies.

During the consultation the team undertook a number of consultation events including; four open sessions in Tallaght Library; a session with the Chamber of Commerce; 1-1 drop in sessions in the Council offices every Wednesday; and the consultation was also promoted through social media advertising.

The next step is to assess the comments provided and to prepare a Chief Executive report considering what changes should be made to the plan as a result of these comments.

This will be made available to the Council in December and will then be considered by full Council in January 2020.

Winter Maintenance

The 2019-2020 Winter Maintenance programme commenced on the 14 October 2019 and will run until March/April 2020.

During this time SDCC's Roads Department will maintain; 13km of National Secondary roads; 114km of Regional Roads and 145km of Local Roads (out of a total of 789km). Transport Infrastructure Ireland (TII) through its contractors maintain the M50, N4 and N7.

SDCC has seven gritting routes and gritters are based in the local Depots, Ballymount and Palmerstown. There is a salt barn in each depot, and these have a combined capacity of 1900 tonnes.

Met Eireann issue a weather forecast each day around midday and the Duty Engineer decides on whether to carry out gritting. Normal gritting takes place at either 7pm, 5am or at both times. SDCC has also provides salt bins in those housing estates that have a steep approach to the main road.

Bawnogue Permeability Scheme

A permeability scheme is nearing completion at Bawnogue, Clondalkin. SDCC's contractor has been on site since July 2019 delivering improved pedestrian and cycle links as well as new connections from Alpine Heights and Ashwood to the R113 and the Grand Canal walkway. The scheme is funded by the National Transport Authority.

Strategic Housing

The Strategic Housing Development (SHD) process was commenced by the government in July 2017. Since that time, the Council has received approximately 50 SHD applications and each of these are at different stages in the process. A total of seven applications have been decided by An Bord Pleanala (ABP) amounting to 2,020 residential units granted and 1,284 units refused. Approximately 50% of the units granted have started construction, and these are largely located in the Fortunestown area. A further four applications are awaiting a decision by ABP.

CORPORATE PERFORMANCE AND CHANGE MANAGEMENT

Governance Framework

Providing a transparent and accountable local authority is of critical importance to the work the Council does and the trust citizens place in it. The following are some of the key measures taken to ensure the public knows what we do and why we do it.

There is a dedicated page on the Council's website entitled 'Regulation of Lobbying', under the About Us section. As required under the Transparency Code, this page provides a list of Designated Public Officials and Councillors. This allows members of the public to identify those persons who are designated public officials, and provides a resource for lobbyists filing a return to the Register.

All working groups operating under the Council will be listed on the website, and state that they adhere to the Transparency Code. This page contains a link to the Register of Lobbying.

The Council has adopted a Strategic Policy Committee Scheme. The Chairs of each committee have been appointed, and the provisions of the Act will be brought to their attention at the inaugural meetings in November. Details such as agendas and minutes of meetings will be made available on the website.

The Council also requires allelected members and senior public officials to submit to an Ethics Registrar an annual written declaration of "declarable interests", and a register of interests is published each year.

LGMA Services Catalogue

The Local Government Management Agency national project to develop a Local Government Service Catalogue commenced in October 2018. It aims to develop a standardised list of services provided by Local Authorities throughout the country. The local government sector provides over 1000 public services, and the aim of the project is to better inform the public about these services and how to access them.

The catalogue will be searchable and can be searched in a number of ways; keyword or free-text keyword search, by service type, via a drop-down menu, by subject and through 'tags'.

The catalogue continues to develop, with drafts completed in Housing, Environment, Planning, Roads and Transportation, Economic Development, Tourism and Local Enterprise services. This significant project should be completed by October 2020.

Finding your way - Camac and Griffen Greenways

Information and wayfinding signage are an important addition to the amenity within our parks. Informative signage was installed in the early summer along the Camac and Griffen Greenways.

The two new signage trails encourage people to explore two of the county's regional parks at Corkagh and Griffen and enhance public understanding of biodiversity and local history. An orientation sign at the Civic Offices in Clondalkin town centre provides an overview of the route along the Camac. Interpretive themes include the significance of the River Camac to the development of Clondalkin from the Stone Age with Celtic, Christian and Viking influences; Clondalkin Mills,

The Great War and the biodiversity along the Camac River. Poems by former local Katherine Tynan were included to complement the themes. At Griffen the signs describe King John's Bridge, the Eiscair Riada and biodiversity along the Griffen.

Omos produced a contemporary robust design using Corten steel with aluminium panels. The project was part funded by the Department of Rural and Community Development: Outdoor Recreation and Infrastructure Scheme. Some of the high-quality wildlife images were kindly donated by Mike Woolley, photographer. The interpretive content was a collaboration between the Public Realm, Environment and Library Sections of the Council and in consultation with local community groups in each area.

Sport Pitch Investment

The Council has 163 pitches within our parks and open spaces available for club and community use across the county. A number of sports pitches have been upgraded with significant capital investment over the last year including GAA and Soccer pitches at Tymon Park and a number of soccer pitches at Firhouse.

The new sand-based pitch at Firhouse finished its establishment phase and commenced use at the start of the summer and is providing very popular. The two sand-based pitches at Tymon Park are now in the establishment phase and are bedding in very well. The Council has recently commenced work on the upgrade of a second GAA pitch in Tymon Park. Some pedestrian management is in place in the park and SDCC apologises for any inconvenience this may cause. The upgrade of the pitches at Tymon Park is funded through the Department of Transport Tourism and Sports' Capital Grant Programme and the projects are in association with local clubs.

TALLAGHT STADIUM MARKETING STRATEGY

South Dublin County Council has signed a contract with Core to develop an advertising and marketing strategy for Tallaght Stadium.

South Dublin County Council has immediate plans to extend the seating capacity of the Council owned Tallaght Stadium to 10,000, with the building of the North Stand. The Council also plans to develop the West Stand to incorporate a high-quality corporate area. This work follows the expansion of the stadium in March of this year with the opening of the South Stand.

In conjunction with these plans, South Dublin County Council intends to promote Tallaght Stadium as an events venue to include music, festivals and all aspects of community events. With stadium seating and temporary on-field seating, the venue will accommodate up to 20,000 people.

In advance of the building of the North Stand, South Dublin County Council have contracted Core to provide an analysis of advertising and branding opportunities for Tallaght Stadium. The analysis is expected to be completed at the beginning of 2020 and will inform future advertising and marketing plans for Tallaght Stadium.

The development of Tallaght Stadium and the advertising and marketing strategy comes on the ten-year anniversary of the stadium opening in 2009. Over the following decade, Tallaght Stadium has continued to increase capacity and improve facilities while providing the home ground for all Shamrock Rovers' games in the Airtricity League and in European competitions. It is also the home venue for our senior ladies and men's underage soccer teams. Tallaght Stadium has hosted many prestigious events, such as the Special Olympics' Opening Ceremony in 2018, Cristiano Ronaldo's Real Madrid debut, American football and international football matches.

Daniel McLoughlin, Chief Executive of South Dublin County Council,

"The development of the advertising and marketing strategy is proof of South Dublin County Council's ongoing commitment to attracting local, national and international visitors. Tallaght Stadium provides a focal point for the entire County and its development as an events venue will further enhance South Dublin's reputation as being to the forefront of the tourism market."

NEW PLAYSPACES OPEN

Two more playspaces in Tymon Park and in Ballymount Park were officially opened by South Dublin County Council recently.

On Thursday 17 October, the Mayor of South Dublin County Council, Councillor Vicki Casserly officially opened the playspace at Ballymount Park.

This was followed a week later with the opening of the new Tymon Park playspace.

The provision of playgrounds in the recent past concentrated on large, formally equipped and defined playgrounds with highly specialised equipment. The Council's PlaySpace programme is different; as it purely aims to provide opportunities to play. Children make their play based on what is available and adaptable in their environment. This type of play allows children to develop their imagination, challenge their abilities, deal with risk and, critically, adapt their environment.

PLAYSPACE PROGRAMME

The Five-Year PlaySpace Programme was first presented to elected members at a meeting of South Dublin County Council in February 2014. The programme was then managed by the Public Realm Section with assistance from the Community Department of South Dublin County Council. Concepts for the PlaySpaces were developed with each local community and in consultation with locally elected members.

The designs were tendered for construction to playground specialists and implemented on-site in tandem with designers from the public realm section of the council to ensure the concepts followed through in each case.

In recent years there has been a justified focus on the physical and mental health of children growing up in Ireland, particularly in urban areas. Over the past twenty years, there has been a significant rise in childhood health issues. Several factors are contributing to this, but we know the physical environments in which children grow up has a significant impact on their health, their enjoyment of childhood and for social, intellectual and physical development.

Creating better play environments will bring benefits for the physical and mental health of the children growing up here and for communities.

PlaySpaces are designed to adapt to space where they are implemented and utilise the natural setting found there. They provide a space and an environment for play, rather than merely equipment for children to play with, are located where children live, with an emphasis on natural PlaySpaces, and focus on the type of play that is most important to early childhood development.

Speaking at the official opening of the Ballymount playspace, Mayor Cllr Vicki Casserly said, “Residents in this area have always advised that this would be a suitable location for a playspace and it has turned out to be very successful. Since the playspace has opened, there has been an increase in family groups using the park and everyone is getting more exercise and fresh air”.

FLOOD ALLEVIATION SCHEMES

Ground investigations were undertaken in October on both the River Poddle and Whitechurch Stream Flood Alleviation Schemes.

As part of the River Poddle Flood Alleviation Scheme and the Whitechurch Stream Flood Alleviation Scheme, ground investigations took place over a number of weeks in October.

Ground Investigations consist of taking soil samples and determining the location of underground services by the use of boreholes, trial pits and slit trenches. As most of the works were carried out on public footpaths, grass verges and roads, pedestrian and traffic management were put in place to accommodate the works where required.

The River Poddle flows from its source near the Institute of Technology Tallaght to the outfall to the River Liffey at Wellington Quay, traversing the heavily urbanised areas of Templeogue, Kimmage, Harold's Cross,

CLIMATE CHANGE ACTION PLAN

Flood management is one of the ways South Dublin County Council has increased flood resilience through the use of spatial planning and infrastructure projects.

Other measures include such things as flood forecasting and using existing natural landscapes or infrastructure to reduce flooding.

The Council's Climate Change Action Plan is aligned to the Government's 'Climate Action Plan 2019 To Tackle Climate Breakdown'.

You can download a copy of the Climate Change Action Plan on the Council's dedicated Climate Action webpage.

Crumlin and Temple Bar. The river has on numerous occasions overflowed its banks at a number of locations; most recently in the severe flood of October 2011, resulting in risk to human life as well as significant damage to properties and surrounding areas.

Through the River Poddle FAS, South Dublin County Council, Dublin County Council and the Office of Public Works (OPW) are seeking to prevent reoccurrences of such flood events and the associated disruption and turmoil inflicted on local communities through the provision of flood relief measures to alleviate the risk posed by the River Poddle.

Similarly, Whitechurch Stream has been identified as being liable to flooding during a one in one-hundred-year flood event. This is mainly due to low banks, overtopping of existing defences or insufficient floodplain capacity. In addition, there is insufficient capacity at a number of bridges and culverts and this is causing water to back-up and producing increased water levels upstream. The Council is working with OPW to address this issue.

South Dublin County Council is being supported through the government’s Urban Regeneration and Development Fund (URDF) to deliver a range of projects that will transform Tallaght.

Project Ireland 2040 is the overarching policy and planning framework for the social, economic and cultural development of Ireland. It includes both a planning framework and a capital investment plan for the period 2018 -2027 – the National Development Plan (NDP).

As part of the NDP, the government established the URDF, a €2 billion fund to support the compact and sustainable development of our cities and major towns. The fund is operated on a competitive bid basis with applicants, primarily local authorities, providing 25% of project funding.

In response to the initial invitation for bids, this council made two submissions. The Tallaght submission focused on the delivery of projects that will have the combined effect of enhancing the urban experience, addressing the quality of the built environment including; public realm, traffic issues, access to amenities and enhancing pride of place. The submission was successful with projects having an estimated value of €19.8million, receiving 75% funding of €14.85million. The balance of €4.95 million, will be provided by the local authority.

The projects include new roads infrastructure to open up lands at Belgard North,

URBAN REGEN DEVELOPM

Enterprise Innovation Centre, the completion of Tallaght Stadium, a new Mobility Hub at the Luas terminal and the development of Civic Plazas at Belgard North and Library Square.

In keeping with the primary planning consideration of rejuvenation and compact growth, we also made a submission to prepare a masterplan for the redevelopment of the Naas Road Corridor. A similar application was made by Dublin City Council for the adjoining area immediately inside the City boundary. This entire area which has historically serviced the City and County well in terms of industrial, manufacturing, bulk retail and logistics employment is now ready for transformation, as traditional uses give way to contemporary city and economic development considerations.

Both South Dublin County Council and Dublin City Council have been awarded €200,000 to initiate a plan-led approach to this regeneration opportunity. It has been agreed that South Dublin County Council will lead out on this plan preparation on behalf of both authorities.
