What is the South Dublin Migrant Integration Forum?

Aim

To provide a forum for representatives of the New Communities in South Dublin to collaborate, network and be a common voice of the communities towards achieving social inclusion, integration and participation in the decision making process.

Mission Statement

The SDMIF is a platform to help develop an inclusive, supportive, secure and intercultural community that is based on the principles of equality, diversity, healthy communication, social justice and mutual respect."

The Forum

The forum provides a coherent and inclusive voice for ethnic groups in South Dublin. It promotes awareness of issues relevant to ethnic communities for the wider public and looks to influence decisions made at County and National level.

South Dublin County Council is the third largest local authority in Ireland by population. It is home to 265,174 people (census 2011) of which a significant portion come from an ethnically diverse background.
