

South Dublin County Disability Advisory / Consultative Panel Review of 2012

1. Introduction and Context

This is a brief report and update regarding the third year of the South Dublin County Disability Advisory / Consultative Panel, which has been operational since January 2010.

The establishment of the Panel was a joint initiative of South Dublin County Council (SDCC) and the South Dublin County Development Board (SDCDB). It is a progression of the practice within the County to encourage high participation and feedback from disabled people during consultation events, such as those held for the development of the South Dublin County Council Disability Act Implementation Plan and the County Strategy.

The Panel has maintained an average of eight active members for the third year. Membership is voluntary and all members have a personal or professional interest in ensuring that facilities, services and activities that the County Council and the County Development Board deliver are designed to be accessible to the entire community. There is an incredible wealth of knowledge and personal experience within the Panel which provides an invaluable resource for the Council and SDCDB to draw upon.

This report is a summary of the activities of the Panel during 2012.

2. Activities for Year Three

At a meeting in December 2010, the Panel decided to continue to meet monthly (Jan-July last Thursday of each month, Sept-Dec first Thursday of each month) and operate a system of rotating Chair.

During 2012 the Panel held 6 meetings (reduced from 10 scheduled meetings due to budgetary constraints), and one National Housing Strategy for Disabled People event. Access supports were provided for two members so that they could participate fully in the Panel and one member participates in a virtual capacity.
